What makes a dream garden? How do we create a great garden perfect for ourselves? Following on from his new series in Gardens Illustrated Andrew Wilson chairs a day of inspirational talks from four of the country's leading figures in the garden world. With a look at what inspires them and how they see dreams made

About the speakers

Tom Stuart Smith

The designer of elegant gardens, with flowery meads and diaphanous, gauzy planting, talks about his design approach and the gardens that have made his name both at Chelsea and across the UK.

Jinny Blom

Jinny has made her name creating soft meadow landscapes and richly planted country gardens that have a certain ease and romance. Here she presents her work and describes her influences.

Carol Klein

Having spent the last year identifying key plants for both television and Gardens Illustrated, Carol selects her top 10 dream plants – must haves for the perfect garden.

Luciano Giubbilei

"If you can't fulfil the reality then there is no point having the dream." Luciano designs minimalist gardens with a cool, clear contemporary quality. He talks about his work and his proposal for the Chelsea Flower Show, a garden sponsored by Laurent Perrier.

The day will be chaired by Andrew Wilson, Director of Garden Design Studies at the London College of Garden Design. Andrew is an award winning garden designer, Chief Assessor for the RHS for show gardens and a former Chairman of the Society of Garden Designers, the UK's professional body for garden design. Andrew writes a regular column for Gardens Illustrated alongside an expanding series of books.
